

Case Study : Decon Ltd

Accurate, Complete and Automated Tender Document production

Significant improvement in success rate for Tender Bids and improved efficiency thanks to successful implementation of Pennine IT system.

Decon Ltd, a well established car park construction company needed to take every opportunity to improve their chances of success in every Tender Bid that they submitted, especially in these currently challenging times. Our consultants were able to design and implement an application that would:

- Save time by automating Tender production
- Ensure all required data was actually present
- Allow flexible "pick and mix" of contents
- Improve access to all project documents
- Provide flexible, future proof functionality

The commissioned application provides an online system where projects can be entered and monitored. Once the required data has been entered, Tender documents can be automatically produced and stored under the project. With digitised signatures and the "pick and mix" of documents and product specs to be included with the Tender, the application provides a flexible, future proof system that will improve not just efficiency within the company but also the chances of success in Tender Bids.

A great partnership delivering a great application.
